

Remissioning Collective 201

2023 - 2024

REMISSIONING COLLECTIVE201

About the Collective

We have gathered intentional practitioners who have experienced and are leading the hard work of remissioning in their established churches over the last few years and developed a 30-week collective learning experience that has:

- Practiced and tested tools
- A growing network and community of leaders who are doing the work
- Experienced coaches to support and encourage the process

Core Competencies

- Intercultural (Contextual) Leadership
- Living on Mission
- Making Disciple-Makers
- Leading with Teams (Distributed Leadership)
- Administration on Mission
- The Math & Measurements of Remissioning

Primary Learning Outcome

The primary learning outcomes for our training is to help you recalibrate your church around missional presence, tackle the old policies and outdated procedures, and honor the past while innovating towards the future. The Remissioning Collective helps you and your church to bear new fruit and live on mission.

Program Summary

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Our training modules are framed around the following 6 competencies

Intercultural Leadership

Leadership that acknowledges that context matters for the remissioning church to be a hospitable key neighbor within the community

Living on Mission

Learning how to practically connect a remissioning church to evangelism, mission and economic justice

Making Disciple-Makers

Understanding how pathways bridge movement intelligence to disciples and disciples to mission

Leading with Teams

Organizing distributed leadership to lead a remissioning church together through change and develop future leaders within the next generation

Administration on Mission

Recognizing that the structure, resources and plans in a remissioning church all lead to organizing clearly around mission

The Math & Measurement of Remissioning

Using different metrics to measure success in the remissioning church that moves our leadership away from attendance, building and cash

IWA COLLABORATIVE

The Mission

'Iwa Collaborative exists to empower kingdom-grounded leaders to navigate change, grow adaptive capacity, and foster local flourishing.

About Us

Leaders and organizations often have to hold two things together: a bird's eye view of the whole of their work and a rootedness on the ground born out of deep relationships in people's lives.

The 'iwa (pronounced ee-vah) bird flies so high to look for food and pay attention to its surroundings that it can soar for days or weeks. However, the 'iwa bird will eat with other birds and nest low to the ground.

We specialize in helping communities to center discipleship and make discipleship pathways to connect disciples to their local mission. And, we help remission established organizations that are trying to adapt their culture to seek the flourishing of their local communities.

Whether your church, business, or non-profit is looking for help to see the big picture or make a plan to change things on the ground we want to help you mature from the inside out.
